Gardens Open Plant Stall 2019

Since now is a good time to lift and divide perennials, we would ask if you could please plant some up for The Plant Stall at Gardens Open 2019. Also if you have something growing that you no longer have space for or you want to make room for something else, please pot it up for us. (We have a small selection of plastic pots if you need any, or if you yourself are overflowing with pots, please give us a call – we might be able to make use of them).

Also, in the Spring, when you are planting seeds for the next growing season, some extras for The Plant Stall would be greatly appreciated.

Many thanks.

Have you ever been “Taken for a Ride”?

There have been a number of media articles about the scamming of money from individuals by various methods. However, the latest one I read about was to warn of 14 typical scams for tourists and holidaymakers.

Thirty plus years ago we stayed in Hong Kong en-route to a distant destination. We strolled from the hotel and noticing some attractive sandals in a shop window, I went inside to hopefully make a purchase. Although surrounded by footwear of every description, I was rather taken aback when the shopkeeper politely told me that she didn't have any shoes my size (7) and that I should go to a "mans" shop further along the road.... mmm.

As we were coming out, Richard said that we should find somewhere to have a meal instead. No sooner had he uttered these words than an elderly woman came up to us; and quietly said that she knew of a very nice place to eat, and that if we followed her, she could show us. Thinking it must be close by we dutifully followed her and were taken down a jumble of narrow bustling alleyways and several dubious shadowed passages.

Two old men were animatedly talking, each holding a small bamboo cage enclosing a yellow bird. The time-warped vistas called for lingering to explore more. When Richard asked how far she was taking us she replied that we were getting very close, and proceeded to take us down a slope to a dark underpass below a busy road. The fascination felt moments ago dispersed when my alarm bells started ringing, thinking we might be mugged and would lose our passports, money and my favourite jewellery. I clutched my handbag closely.

Richard was quite calm but I could see that he was wary, and he told me to think of this as a mini adventure, and was sure all would be fine, Much to my partial relief we came out of the underpass unscathed and were faced with nearby views of water and boats, We were taken to the water's edge via a rough gangway and there tied alongside was a small narrow craft with a really old lady sitting at the helm. Our persuasive "guide" told us that that her mother would take us, and held out her hand for a tip, which she duly received.... Well, we were alright so far and the walk had

This category should be brought to the Tithe Barn between 1.30 and 2.0 p.m. on Saturday the 3rd November.

All sections of the Children's Art Competition will be judged with two age groups up to 10 years of age and 11-16 years.

Adults' and Children's Handicrafts and Photography Competition

Get your crochet hooks out, your knitting and sewing needles ready and your camera fully charged and think what other skills you have that could display your "crafty" talent.

- A crocheted or knitted item.
- A photo taken in Dorset.
- Any other craft item.

been delightful .... The old lady smiled and beckoned us aboard and pointed for us to sit on two small tin drums each topped with clean ragged pieces of cloth, she revved the engine, and away we went, with a wobble or two.

We were taken up and down channels with large brown wooden sampans neatly moored and looked at their imposing sterns. There were line upon line of dangling fish and octopus drying in the hot sun alongside wafting pieces of laundry. Children were laughing and running around on some of the decks, some waved and smiled, and on others, flaming braziers were being attended by crouching adults, while others lounged. Amazing – open fires on wooden boats!

It was fascinating to be so really close to these scenes and experience the sounds and odours issuing from these working fishermen's boats cum homes. I wondered at one point, if she was taking us to board one of these vessels, until there, in the distance we saw a larger boat, brightly coloured, and a sign reading Restaurant. We clambered ashore and Richard held a palm full of notes and coins and the old lady gently chose what she wanted which was very little, but needless to say, we gave her more for her time and boat fuel but more especially just for the thrill of the trip, our mini adventure!

After a delicious meal we went to the exit and asked one of the waiters if it was possible to get a water taxi to get partway to our hotel. He asked us where we wanted to go, and when we gave him the name of our hotel he said that it was really quite near, and in walking distance, but as we were probably very tired after being in the sun, and having eaten, he could get us a taxi

*Yes, we were "taken for a ride" –
but oh what a ride!*

The Village Art Competition

Sunday 4th November in The Tithe Barn

11.00am - 1.00pm

The Village Art Competition is taking place on Sunday 4th November and being combined with the Fund Raising Coffee Morning for The Village Christmas Party - this is a little earlier than normal so as not to delay the Art Competition any more than necessary. It will be held in the Tithe Barn rather than the Village Hall so that we have more space to display items to their full potential.

As well as the previously planned Art Competition from The Village Show, Handicrafts and Photography are also being included - so please keep painting, knitting, snapping your photographs and planning the designs of your cup-cakes etc. etc. and despite the disappointment of The Village Show having to be cancelled this year, let's try and make Sunday 4th November a special day by celebrating the wide variety of 'arty crafty' talents in our village as well as making a very early start on the preparations for our Christmas Party!

All the competitions will also be open to family and friends of HSM residents who may not live in Hinton but may wish to enter an item (the same rule was to apply to the Village Show) so they too can come and enjoy the morning with us on November 4th.

Full details of the various sections of the competition are once again printed in this issue along with another copy the Entry Form.

Here is a reminder of the dates by which you need to submit your pieces of art, knitting, photography etc.

All sections of the adult's entries (Art, Handicrafts, Photography and Any Other Craft Item) and the children's entries (Art (1), Art(2), Handicrafts, Photography, and Any Other Craft Item) may be handed in to either Anthea (Amberwood, Veals Lane, 471896) or Jill (Seymour Cottage, Stearts Lane, 473405) from now until Friday 2nd November – we would prefer them sooner rather than later if possible so that we can plan their display.

The only exceptions to this are :

- I. Any large exhibits for the Adult's Art Competition
- II. Any large exhibits for the Children's Model Competition
- III. All entries for the Children's "Decorate a Cup Cake"

- Please bring these exhibits to the Tithe Barn yourself on Saturday 3rd November either between 9.30 – 10.30 a.m. or 1.00 – 2.00 p.m.

The Children's Art Competition (1) is being sponsored by The Arts Society Blackmore Vale and the Adult's Photography Competition by Wessex Photography, who have kindly donated gift vouchers as prizes.

There are prizes, medals and certificates to be awarded to all sections of the competition – so come on everyone, please support this village event by getting 'art and crafty' and hand in your entries to either Anthea or Jill as soon as possible.

Adult's Art Competition Classes

A piece of artwork in any medium and any size (within reason !!) for example, sketching, painting, collage, lino print, felt work etc. etc. which could fall under the heading of "Dorset".

Children's Art Competition Classes

1) 'A piece of artwork' of A4 size whether it be paper, card or whatever you like and once again, in any medium (drawing, painting, foil work, printing or collage using for example pasta, fabric or natural materials such as leaves, feathers, flowers etc. etc.) which could fall under the heading of "The Seasons".

The theme was originally "Summer" but as the competition date has been postponed to November, the new heading is "The Seasons"- so if you have already completed a piece of work it will not be wasted.
