Stand-Up Comedy at The Exchange 15th March 2014

The popular bi-annual comedy night returns in the capable hands of compere, Geoff Whiting, described by The Radio Times 2013 as 'One of Britain's funniest men.'

Opening the show, Gary Colman, an army doctor for 14 years, shares his discontented genius with you as he considers the big issues of life.

We have two acts in our open slot-Tim O'Connor and Canadian, Chris Betts.

Our headline act, Jamie Bowen has established himself as one of the mainstays of the NZ comedy circuit with nearly a decade of performing under his belt. Mixing stand-up, story telling, random banter, music and anything else that springs to mind on the night, Jamie has proved to be one of NZ's most exciting and creative young comedians and definitely one to watch.

All proceeds from this event will go to the Sudanese Community Development Project in Cairo and the Friends of North Dorset's Women Refuge. Our running total of money raised for local and overseas good causes so far, now stands at £13,100!

The show starts at 8pm and there will be a bar and bar snacks available. Tickets, at just £12 each, are available, on the door, or, in advance from The Exchange 01258 475137. (This show is not suitable for children and acts may be subject to change on the night.)

Thank You.

Some of you may have noticed Sam in the December edition of the Community magazine. The picture was taken during a presentation at the Exchange by the Cheese Festival Committee. As many will know Sam uses a wheelchair and his current chair is approaching 8 years old. Due to the minimal requirement of such items as wheelchairs they are very expensive and we were considering our best options. However before we knew it sufficient funds had been raised from within our own community. Sam has received assistance from the round table in Sturminster Newton, The Cheese Festival Committee and Hinton's own charity The Mary Freake charity. We would like to thank everyone for their help and rapid response and we are truly grateful to all those people who really put themselves out to help.

The White Horse.

It has been over a month now since Matthew and Rebecca took over at the White Horse. There have been some interesting changes to the décor and menu, which have already enticed customers both old and new. The food is both very well cooked and presented. The menu depends on what produce is in season and what is available locally, but is always interesting. Out of the restaurant and into the bar there are various bar snacks available, which again vary with the seasons. At £4.50 the large Bratwurst sausage with onions and mustard mayo was both tasty and great value for money.

So if it's been a while since you've been to the White Horse, go on down and see what's new, perhaps bring some friends along, they won't be disappointed.
